SUBJECT: December 14, 2011 Planning Commission Update on the Eastgate/I-90 Land Use and Transportation Project

Please bring the November 16, 2011, meeting packet with you to the meeting.

The planning process for the Eastgate/I-90 Land Use and Transportation Project is nearing completion. The Eastgate/I-90 Citizen Advisory Committee will soon finalize its “preferred alternative” and recommendation to Council. Tonight staff will brief the Planning Commission on the emerging preferred alternative, describe where the project is headed, and identify future Planning Commission involvement with the project.

A complete briefing memo was provided in the November 16 meeting packet, including illustrations of the various alternatives considered during the process and the preliminary preferred alternative.

No action by the Planning Commission is requested at this time. However, if commissioners have input they would like to forward to the CAC before they finalize the preferred alternative and recommendation to Council, this is an opportunity to do so.
