Thursday, November 1: In Her Shoes This tale of two sisters from producer Ridley Scott and inspired by Jennifer Weiner's novel is based on the theory that wild-child Maggie (Cameron Diaz) and straight-laced Rose (Toni Collette) have nothing in common -- except for their size 8-1/2 feet. But Maggie's discovery of a long-lost grandmother (Shirley MacLaine) the girls never knew they had could be the thing that brings them together for good.

Thursday, November 8: A Beautiful Mind John Forbes Nash Jr. (Russell Crowe) was a brilliant economist -- when his mind was clear. But life changed forever with the revelation that he was schizophrenic, although his brilliance persisted amidst the anguish his mental illness caused for him and his wife (Jennifer Connelly). Ron Howard directs this Oscar-winning drama that picked up honors for direction and acting (Connelly) as well as the Best Picture prize.

Thursday November 15: The Bucket List When corporate mogul Edward Cole and mechanic Carter Chambers wind up in the same hospital room, the two terminally ill men bust out of the cancer ward with a plan to experience life to the fullest before they kick the bucket.

Thursday, November 29: Girl Happy Rock group front man Rusty Wells (Elvis Presley) and his band are charged with keeping an eye on Valerie (Shelley Fabares), the daughter of a mob boss (Harold J. Stone), over spring break. Although Valerie falls for Rusty, she drops him when she discovers he works for her dad. Her new beau (Fabrizio Mioni), however, may threaten more than Rusty's love life. Elvis performs the title tune, "Puppet on a String," "Startin' Tonight" and more.
