Recycling Motor Oil and Used Oil Filters

Do you change your own motor oil?

- Follow these Do-It-Yourself oil-changing tips
  - Get a simple-to-fill, convenient-to-drain, RE-USABLE oil collection container.
  - Drain the oil carefully into the container, avoiding splatters and spills. Use a drop cloth to catch any spills.
  - Drain your oil filter for 24 hours; collect the oil for recycling.
  - Never mix anything with used oil.
  - Seal the container securely and take it to your nearest used oil collection site.
  - Pour your oil carefully into the collection tank avoiding spills and splatters.

Note: In Washington State it is illegal to spill oil on the ground or into surface water (streams and lakes). Oil spilled on the ground can wash into a nearby storm drain and end up polluting a stream and harming fish. Do you have questions? Call Bellevue Utilities at 425-452-6932.

How can I conserve oil?

- Simple tips to reduce oil waste
  - Watch for leaky valve cover gaskets and engine seals. Replace them as soon as possible.
  - Use reusable, long-term oil filters.
  - Consider using synthetic lubricating oil. While some synthetics can't be re-refined, they don't need to be changed as often, thereby saving oil.
